2024 Perennial Bare Root Catalogue

Dear customer,

Why should you grow perennials? The demand for perennials is increasing. And shouldn't it be because perennial plants are wonderful additions to the landscape and gardens? Because they last for more than one season, they are perfect for designing a permanent garden display. Besides that, perennial plants provide pollen, nectar, seeds and nesting material for birds and butterflies.

Our refreshed assortment can fill your perennial needs for your customers. Using bare root perennials to grow finished plants will save you time! How much faster can plants from bare root be? In many cases, plants from bare root finish 25% to 50% faster than those started from plugs or liners. This allows growers to turn their production space faster. This potentially means more sales revenue! What's not to like about that?

Besides of our refreshed bare root perennial assortment we added a wide range of bare root shrubs, XL youngplants, the exciting Delosperma Chick Charms[®] range and a popular assortment of flower bulbs for landscaping. Please be aware that landscaping-flower bulbs are only available for autumn delivery. You can add all these new varieties to your regular order. We'll pack the shrubs, trays and flower bulbs in the well-known carton boxes. Please check your order form for more details on deliveryweeks and multiples.

Don't forget: Peonies and Iris are also available for autumn delivery. For questions about these fall orders please contact our sales team.

Thank you very much for being a Kébol Plants customer and we wish you a successful and healthy 2024 season.

Ordering

For best availability for your desired ship, please order early.
Shipment dates cannot be altered after November 1st. 2023

Our packing process begins on November 14th, so no changes to your order can be made after this date. Although we do accept orders after this deadline, the selection will be more limited and some varieties will be unavailable.

An acknowledgment will be mailed to you as soon as we have processed your order. All orders are subject to crop conditions. We have a long growing season and many unforeseen problems may occur which can damage crops and thereby reduce the amount of plants available. Every effort is made to fulfill orders, but the availability of a particular variety cannot always be guaranteed until we begin shipping. Therefore, we may have to cancel some items from your order at a later date.

Pot tags

United Kingdom & Ireland

Pot tags are automatically included with your bare root order.

If you do not wish to receive tags, please clearly specify this information when you send or call in your order. Unless otherwise stated we will send 1 tag per plant.

Rest of the World

Pot tags are only shipped upon request for bare root perennials.

You can request tags for your complete order by checking the relevant box on the order form. Unless otherwise stated we will send 1 tag per plant.

We'll add tags in case of licensed varieties of bare root shrubs.

For the following items the tag multiple is one tag per three corms.
Convallaria majalis*, Crocasmia and *Liatris (except for Kobold).

Each tag includes full English descriptive information and notes on care and usage.

Multiples for bare root perennials

Product is packed in multiples of 25, with the following exceptions:

Convallaria majalis, Crocasmia and Liatris (not Kobold): multiples of 75.

We recommend 3 corms per pot. Peonies: multiples of 5.

Please check your orderform for more details on all products.

Roots are packed in strong large boxes that protect them during shipping!

1. Upon Arrival

Let the roots thaw out slowly

Most plants are shipped frozen at 28°F (-2°C) to keep them dormant. If the plant material is still frozen upon arrival please leave it in a cool, dry place to thaw out slowly so that it is able to adapt.

Plants need fresh air: open all boxes and bags immediately upon receipt, but prevent dehydration.

Temperature and condensation will build up inside closed boxes, causing sprouting and rotting. However, plant material in open boxes can dry out easily, so ventilation should be minimal and prevent direct sunlight at all times.

Check the condition of the roots in the boxes daily.

Plants that have started to sprout must be planted immediately. If any sign of fungal or bacterial infection is suspected, plants can not be stored anymore. Infected parts must be removed and the plants treated with fungicide and/or bactericide.

Items that do not tolerate storage must be planted immediately.

Do not leave the plant material longer than necessary in the boxes and bags, for storage will reduce vigor for every species. If unable to transplant immediately, store in a cool place (2-8°C/36-46°F). When stored at higher temperatures with lower humidity, the vigor will be reduced dramatically. At temperatures higher than 68°F (20°C), the roots must be planted within 24 hours.

2. Planting

Do not plant roots that are still frozen.

Frozen roots are not able to transport water to the buds. If the buds have thawed out before the roots have, they can be damaged by dehydration. Do not force thawing as this will create stressful conditions to the roots and buds.

Handle the roots with great care to avoid breaking of buds and/or roots.

Some species have fragile buds and/or roots. Breaking off may decrease plant size.

Don't let roots dry out during potting.

Prevent dehydration of the roots by planting them right away after you have taken them out of the box. Serious damage to fine-haired roots like Phlox can be done in 10 minutes, they can dry out in 20 minutes! Make sure the potting room is free of draught. Always cover roots during breaks.

Rootpinching

Some plants root better if the roots are pinched (see table)

Soil

It is necessary to use a well-drained potting soil to avoid roots staying wet, which can cause them to rot. Many problems come from a lack of adequate drainage. Don't give plants fertilizer before they are actively growing.

Firm the soil around the roots: prevent air pockets

Roots should be centered in the pot and spread out evenly, with all roots facing downward. There must be good contact between all parts of the roots and the soil. Firm the soil around the roots. All of this is necessary for the roots to absorb water and nutrients.

Many perennials should be planted "high"

Results of experiments conducted by Dr. Bill Miller of the Cornell University suggest that many perennials should be planted with the crown (intersection of the roots and the shoots) at or slightly above soil level, after watering and settling. Some plants such as Geranium Ballerina showed an almost absolute adhesion to deep planting (1/2 to 1" deep) with a nearly 100% loss. High planting, on the other hand, resulted in nearly 100% survival and good growth (Handling Bare root Perennials, Growertalks, May 2004, by W.B. Miller and A. Bestic). The most important reason for this, is that plants will receive daylight sooner than when they are planted too deeply. With daylight, plants make energy, which they need for growing. Also, when planted too deeply the crown may stay too wet for too long, which can cause them to rot.

3. After Planting

Water carefully.

After planting in early spring, do not water the first week: in this stage the roots can only accept little moisture and need to be stimulated to look for water. After this, slowly start with watering.

Also, the young shoots are especially vulnerable to overwatering before they appear above the soil: in this critical phase, over watering may cause suffocation of plant parts or damping-off diseases. Be extra careful with irrigation at low temperatures: plant growth is slower, therefore this critical phase lasts longer. Some plants need a dryer start than others. Once the plants have started to grow, revert to a regular watering schedule. Some plants prefer to be grown "dry," others "wet" (see table). Keep the soil moisture as constant as possible; too much fluctuation will harm the plant.

Fungicide drench

A fungicide drench applied on plant material one to two weeks after planting can prevent problems.

Greenhouse conditions

In early spring, plants have different requirements regarding temperature. Some plants prefer a cold start (35°-55°F / 2°-12°C), some a medium cold start (45°-65°F / 7°-18°C), others a warm start (60°-75°F / 16°-24°C). Prevent the young shoots from freezing at all times: some plants won't give you a second chance! Ventilation in the greenhouse is very important: little ventilation will cause problems with mildew and fungus.

Claims

Freight: Concerns over delayed or damaged shipments must be reported on the carrier's bill of lading in order to be considered. Report your concerns to our office immediately.

Product: We guarantee all plants are true to name and of good quality when shipped. Any quality concerns or shortages must be reported to our office within 10 days of receipt of order to be considered. For any product claims or disputes, we shall be held liable for plant cost only and in no case shall be liable for any cost greater than that. If you received plants that are non-viable or did not break dormancy, you have 60 days to submit a claim for it to be considered.

Season 2024

Key Lime Kiss

Chick Charms

From 2023, Kébol Plants has access to the starting material of Chick Charms® succulents. The plugs of these ultra-hardy succulents are easy to grow in a container. We are convinced the Chick Charms® collection is a very strong addition to spring program.

About Chick Charms®

The collection of Chick Charms® is very colorful and filled with hardy Sempervivum (Hen's & Chicks). These have been bred by Chris Hansen in West Michigan. The succulents are easy to grow and to take care of. They don't need a lot of water and it's a very strong plant. It's hardy up to -25 °C.

The Chick Charms® succulents are distinguished by their bright and unique colours. They'll provide colour all year round.

Fun facts Chick Charms®

- The succulents do well everywhere. From roofs to gardens and inside as well.
- Available in several of varieties, which are all very colourful.
- Available all year round and suitable for all climates.

Delivery of Chick Charms®

Good to know: The delivery will be from week 8-14 and can be added to your bareroot perennial order.

Bare root shrubs

Bare root shrubs are better value for money than their containerised counter-parts because they are cheaper to grow. Many people find bare root plants are a great way to get more "bang for your buck"

Optimal Growth

Bare-root plants can more quickly acclimate to new soil conditions when planted and get a vigorous head start on growing.

Great Value

Many of the trees and shrubs available in bare-root form are already good-sized plants. Because they can be efficiently harvested, stored, and shipped, we are able to offer them at great savings.

- Environmentally friendly; producing a bareroot plant uses less resources, ie. less fertilisers, less compost, less water, less plastic and less transport costs than a pot grown plant.
- Offers more choice; bareroot plants can be bundled together to store in the nursery during the dormant season, so we can supply a wide range of varieties.

Please mention careful handling: the bare roots must not dry out totally or get exposed to the elements. We pack the roots to avoid drying out!

Good to know: The delivery will be from week 8-14 and can be added to your bareroot perennial order.

EASY
to grow

Astilbe can provide a solution for the gardener seeking a summer flowering perennial with graceful form and beautiful foliage. Flowers are feathery plumes extending above the foliage in shades of pink, red, or white and appear in late spring and early summer.

Astilbe

Their common names, False Goatsbeard and False Spirea, gives you an idea of their flower forms. Their plume-shaped, colorful flowers stand above the ferny foliage and dance in the breeze. Astilbes need to grow in a dappled or part shady location in moisture retentive soil to thrive. They will not tolerate dry soils. They can however tolerate more sun, as long as the soil doesn't dry out, so make good plants for a bog garden or waterside planting.

While the colors themselves don't hold specific meaning individually, and Astilbe's meaning is not as prevalent as many other flowers' can be, its alluring blooms are known to be a symbol of patience and dedication to a loved one.

to grow

With its ease of growth, variety of plant shapes and sizes available, and diversity of leaf colorations, Hosta is one of the most desirable perennials for gardens with partial to full shade. Many exciting new cultivars of Hostas have been developed in the past two decades. The shape of the leaves ranges from narrow elliptic to very broad ovate or heart shaped. The leaf texture may be shiny, smooth, or puckered and consists of numerous colorations of yellow, white, and greens to blue-green with and without distinct veining or variegation. Hostas can be utilized in many ways in the landscape.

Hosta

Most Hosta cultivars will grow more vigorously and have the best leaf coloration when they are planted in locations with partial shade, particularly in the afternoon. Hosta blend well with other shade loving perennials including Astilbe, Brunnera, Dicentra and Heuchera.

The genus Hosta was named after the physician to the Austrian Emperor, Nicolaus Host (1761-1834). It was commonly called 'funkia' until the 1970s when its genus name 'Hosta' also became the most commonly used common name.
