Pre-sprouted Amaryllis bulbs: the perfect choice for your added-value products

With decades of experience in breeding and cultivating Amaryllis bulbs, we are the experts in growing and marketing this seasonal product. In our own nursery in Peru, we cultivate the renowned Chan Chan Amaryllis® Amaryllis bulbs.

A part of these high-quality bulbs is used after arrival in the Netherlands for the production of pre-sprouted bulbs, which we supply to a specialized customer base. These customers produce added-value products, such as (flower) arrangements in vases or pots.

Our pre-sprouted Amaryllis bulbs are carefully prepared at Kébol. The bulbs are placed on carts in a heated greenhouse, where they grow under ideal conditions. Depending on the requested specifications, such as sprout length and flower color, the bulbs are picked from the cart and placed in the correct packaging. They are then stored in the cold storage until delivery.

Available specifications:

- Sprout length 1-2 cm
- Sprout length 3-5 cm

Why choose Kébol?

- Top-quality Amaryllis bulbs
- Just-in-time delivery, a crucial factor in the production of added-value products
- On-demand delivery for maximum flexibility
- Amaryllis bulbs that bloom before Christmas
- Bulbs that meet your specific requirements

Chan Chan Amaryll:

Sustainably grown, high-quality Amaryllis bulbs

In the heart of Northern Peru, where the past meets the present, lies Chan Chan Amaryll. The name pays tribute to the ancient historic site, the city of Chan Chan. With over 80 hectares of cultivation land and a modern processing facility, our nursery is among the largest amaryllis growers worldwide. Kébol BV is proud to be one of the owners of this prestigious nursery.

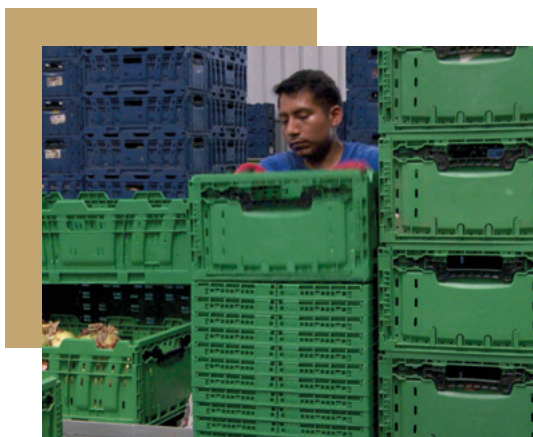

Location

The choice of this location is due to the unique climate, which provides the perfect conditions for growing Amaryllis bulbs. The dry climate of this region minimizes crop diseases and reduces the need for crop protection products. This not only preserves the integrity of our bulbs but also strengthens our commitment to sustainability.

Sustainability

Sustainability is deeply embedded in our DNA. Every step we take is focused on environmental friendliness and sustainability. We adhere to globally recognized standards such as Global GAP and GRASP. The well-being and safety of our employees are central to our policies. Thanks to a unique government project, we can utilize natural water sources, allowing the bulbs to be cultivated in optimal conditions without wasting valuable resources.

Worldwide export

Our Amaryllis bulbs meet international standards for worldwide export. The bulbs are suitable for various applications, including Amaryllis-for-pot production, pre-sprouted bulbs, and retail or online sales channels. From the port in Peru, the bulbs are directly shipped to our customers in the USA, Asia, and Europe.

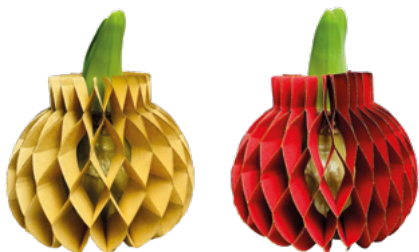

At Chan Chan Amaryl, we blend history and future with unmatched quality and a strong focus on sustainability.

Sustainably grown Amaryllis bulbs mean:

- Cultivation using natural resources;
- Drip irrigation prevents the waste of precious water;
- The climate minimizes the need for crop protection products, while drip irrigation further prevents waste;
- Optimal outdoor growing conditions that reduce crop diseases;
- Maximum utilization of sunlight;
- Reuse of packaging through the use of collapsible crates;
- Contribution to the economic development of the community;
- Investment in personal development and healthcare to benefit the community;
- Certification according to Global GAP and GRASP standards
